I am a Software Developer and digital media specialist with approximately 6 years of experience in the technology industry. I work extensively in the Back-End field and also do Front-End development. During this time, I am developing projects with current technologies and tools such as C#, .Net, .Net Core MVC, TypeScript, JavaScript, Angular, Html, CSS, PostgreSQL, MsSQL and Git, SourceTree, Docker. I am success and result-oriented, prone to research, aiming for both myself and professional development, and highly motivated to develop projects and produce new ideas. By closely following technological developments, I focus on continuous development and improvements in Full Stack software processes, which is my primary goal.

- End-to-end Back-End design and coding
- Establishing the database structure
- Strong foundation in data structures and algorithms
- Development of hotspot integrations
- Bugfix processes
- DLL design and implementation
- Admin panel construction
- Working with microservices
